NOTE:

- (1) The majority of criminal proceedings commenced wherein intercepted private communications and/or their derivatives are to be introduced as evidence have either not yet come to trial or are at various stages of the trial or appellate process. Accordingly, item l (ii) (Resultant Convictions), supra, would appear low at the present time in relation to item (k) (Number of persons arrested), supra.

- (2) Item l (i) (Evidence Adduced), supra, is also low in relation to item (k), supra, because it does not include cases wherein accused persons have pled guilty to charges laid as the result of interceptions of private communications made pursuant to judicial Orders of Authorization or Renewal in view of the fact that in such cases a summary of the relevant facts is substituted for the formal introduction of evidence.

- (m) The number of criminal investigations in which information obtained as a result of the interception of a private communication under an authorization was used although the private communication was not adduced in evidence in criminal proceedings commenced at the instance of the Attorney General of Ontario as a result of the investigations

SECTION 178.22 (3)

- (a) The number of prosecutions commenced against officers of Her Majesty in Right of Canada or members of the Canadian Forces for offences under section 178.11 or section 178.2

NOTE:

The number of authorizations granted in 1977 increased by 56 over 1976. This increase is due, in a large part, to two factors:

- (i) the courts have held that a renewal cannot contain any alteration except to extend the time for the interception. If there is any alteration, a new authorization must be obtained, not a renewal; and
- (ii) the addition of 14 new offences for which an authorization may be obtained (including rape, procuring, assault causing bodily harm, etc.), would obviously increase the number of cases where an authorization may be obtained.

In some cases where an unidentifiable person has become known a new authorization has been sought rather than attempting to include him as a named person in a renewal.

SECTION 178.22 CRIMINAL CODE

GENERAL ASSESSMENT

Section 178.22 (3) (b) of the Criminal Code requires me to set forth a general assessment of the importance of interception of private communications for the investigation, detection, prevention and prosecution of offences.

All applications for authorizations relating to offences under the Criminal Code, except those offences relating to conspiracy to deal in narcotic drugs or conspiracy to commit other offences which are currently being prosecuted by the Federal Department of Justice, are handled by my agents, being either the Crown Attorney in a particular County or Judicial District or lawyers within the head office of my own Ministry. Each application is carefully scrutinized initially by Senior Officers of the investigating police force and then by my agents. The Judge before whom the application is ultimately brought must satisfy himself that it is in the best interests of the administration of justice to grant such an authorization, that other investigative procedures have been tried and have failed; that other investigative procedures are unlikely to succeed; or the urgency of the matter is such that it would be impractical to carry out the investigation of the offence using only other investigative procedures.

The year 1977 saw two major developments in this field.

Firstly, judicial interpretations of various aspects of Part IV.I of the Criminal Code has continued this year and a number of these decisions have been of particular significance to Crown Law Officers as well as the Judiciary, Defence Bar and ultimately the members of the public. The decisions illustrate the importance of this legislation and of its effectiveness in dealing with serious crime in the interest of the protection of the public. Of particular interest for example, is the recent pronouncement of the Court of Appeal for Ontario with respect to the procedure that should be followed at the trial level when intercepted private communications are tendered in evidence. This and other decisions involve complex legal issues. Suffice it to say that the decisions continue to strive toward the maintaining of the proper balance between the lawful right of the members of the public to the protection of their privacy, and the effective enforcement of the criminal law.

Secondly, a number of significant amendments to the legislation became effective on October 15th, 1977. I feel these changes are of sufficient importance and interest to justify the inclusion herein of a summary of their provisions prepared by the Federal Department of Justice:

Protection of Privacy Act Amendments

The definition of "offence" for which an authorization may be permitted has been expanded to include breach of trust of office, municipal corruption, obstructing justice, prison breach, rape, wash trading, procuring, escaping lawful custody, being unlawfully at large, keeping a gaming or betting house, assault causing bodily harm, pornographic materials and fraudulent bankruptcy. In addition, any offence under the Criminal Code authorizing imprisonment for five years or more and the offence of loansharking where "there are reasonable and probable grounds to believe is part of a pattern of criminal activity planned and organized by a number of persons acting in concert" have been added to the definition of "offence".

The affidavit which accompanies an application for an authorization must disclose more information including the occupation of the person to be intercepted and the number of prior applications for authorizations involving the same offence and person or persons to be intercepted.

On the application for authorization, on application personally signed by an Attorney General or the Solicitor General of Canada may also be made to extend the period of notification of interception up to three years. If the extension is refused, the application for authorization may be withdrawn.

The tests for the granting of an authorization have been made disjunctive by substituting "or" for "and".

No authorization may be given to intercept private communications at the office or residence of a lawyer or a place ordinarily used by lawyers for professional purposes unless there are reasonable grounds to believe that the lawyer or some close associate has been or is about to become a party to an offence as defined by section 178.1. The judge who grants such an authorization shall impose such terms and conditions as are necessary to protect professional communications.

The authorization order must itself state further particulars and is valid for sixty days.

The renewal application must indicate the number of instances when the application was withdrawn or no renewal was given and particulars thereof. A renewal may be given for up to sixty days.

Derivative evidence is admissible unless the judge is "of the opinion that the admission thereof would bring the administration of justice into disrepute".

Exemption from prosecution for disclosure of intercepted private communications etc. has been extended to persons who make such disclosures after testifying in court.

The Annual Report must indicate the number of notifications given to persons whose private communications have been intercepted.

An application to defer notification of interception may be made and deferral of up to three years may be granted if the judge is satisfied that the investigation of the offence is continuing and that the interests of justice warrant the granting of the application.

To assess the impact of the legislation and amendments from the point of view of the police, I asked several of the major Police Forces in Ontario to provide me with their views on this matter. Regrettably, space does not allow for the inclusion of all comments received. Accordingly, I have included the comments of those departments which have obtained the largest number of authorizations:

- (a) "During 1977, applications for authorizations within the Metropolitan Toronto Police Department has more than doubled over the previous year. The results have obviously been favourable as arrests and charges laid have doubled as well.

Needless to say, interceptions of Private Communications, which is usually the last resort to investigative methods has been the main tool to penetrate the barriers of Organized Crime". (Metro Toronto P.D.)

- (b) "The use of electronic surveillance pursuant to an authorization continues to be a valuable and highly successful tool in the investigation of serious crime. In our last study (1975) of the effectiveness of this aid, we realized an efficiency rate of eighty-five percent. This degree of effectiveness in situations where all other means of investigation have been tried and failed, or considered unlikely to succeed dramatically illustrates its value to law enforcement.

The amendment to section 178.12 (e) failed to include a specific reference to unknown persons, thereby possibly excluding the use of a clause which would cover those persons who may become identified as acting in concert. Experience has shown that the interception of private communications is most successful and hence employed almost exclusively for conspiratorial type crimes. As can be appreciated, persons acting in concert are rapidly identified. As each is identified, it is necessary to apply for a new authorization. This can occur many times in a sixty-day period, resulting in loss of many man hours on the part of the police and an increased burden on the designated agent who as we know, is already taxed heavily with other duties. The problem of notification with respect to multiple authorizations being obtained, in respect to one investigation creates a nightmare itself, not to mention the quagmire which will be created when the case is brought before the courts.

The final area of concern is the proliferation in Ontario of counter surveillance or debugging businesses which at the present time are unregulated". (O.P.P.)

- (c) "The present legislation under the Criminal Code for intercepting private communications is adequate from a Police viewpoint save for the Notification provision.

One argument for retention of this provision is that it prevents abuse of interception of private communications by the Police. This surely is absurd. The only person who benefits from this provision is the criminal himself. Abuse is prevented under the legislation by the many requirements placed on the investigator in his application for an authorization. This application is scrutinized by a responsible senior Police Officer, a Crown Attorney, and then a Judge of the County or Supreme Court. Surely any abuse would be prevented by any one of these responsible people.

There are many other provisions that also prevent abuse, such as the reporting responsibilities of the Police to the Ministry of the Attorney General, notification to an accused if the communications are to be adduced as evidence, and the reporting responsibilities of the Attorney General as required under the legislation regarding the Annual Report". (Peel Regional P.D.)

- (d) "I would like to stress that the interception of private communications under the Act is an important and effective tool for the investigation, detection, prevention, and prosecution of criminal offences and activities. A demonstration of the importance of the legislation was realized when, as a result of an Authorization . . . we were able to stop a full scale illegal distribution of stocks before it really got underway". (R.C.M.P. "O" Division, Toronto)

SUMMARY

In summary, and to repeat in part my comments of previous years, the importance of the interception of private communications for the investigation, detection, prevention and prosecution, of offences is without question. The invasion of any person's privacy is a very serious matter and accordingly, as indicated in my initial comments, a careful review of all applications for authorizations must, and will, continue to be made by my designated agents.

Some of the previous problems and difficulties have been eliminated by the amendments to the legislation and by recent judicial decisions. In my view, these amendments and decisions have provided further safeguards for the citizen without unduly hindering the investigative authority of our police forces.

The Environmental Assessment Act, 1975

MNR-13

THE ENVIRONMENTAL ASSESSMENT ACT, 1975

Exemption Section 30

Having received a request from the Minister of Natural Resources that an undertaking, namely:

1. Sewage Systems regulated under Part VII of The Environmental Protection Act, including any systems to which regulations made under Clause "n" or "o" of the Subsection 1 of Section 62 of The Ontario Water Resources Act apply, exclusive of any sewage systems of sewage works that discharge directly to surface water, and any sewage lagoons, and
2. Water works, sewage systems and sewage works having an estimated completion costs of less than $1,000,000, wherein $1,000,000 means $1,000,000 divided by the Non-Residential Construction Input Index issued by Statistics Canada for the month of December, 1977, multiplied by the Non-Residential Construction Input Index issued by Statistics Canada for the month in which the first contract for the construction of the undertaking is entered into, or, where no such contract is entered into, the month in which the commencement date for the undertaking falls, exclusive of any sewage systems or sewage works that discharge directly to surface water, and any sewage lagoons, be further exempted from the application of the Act pursuant to Section 30; and

Having been advised that if the undertaking is subject to the application of the Act, the following injury, damage or interference with the persons indicated will occur:

The undertaking is formed by some of the constituent projects of the larger activities the Ministry of Natural Resources executes under its mandate for Outdoor Recreation and Land Management. The environmental assessments which are being prepared for these larger activities will be addressing the effects of their constituent projects. Therefore, the Crown will be interfered with and damaged by the undue delay and cost involved in preparing environmental assessments for constituent projects of larger activities for which environmental assessments are already being prepared.

Having weighed such injury, damage or interference with the betterment of the people of the whole or any part of Ontario by the protection, conservation and wise management in Ontario of the environment which would result from the undertaking being subject to the application of the Act;

I am of the opinion that it is in the public interest to order and do order subject to the terms and conditions set out below that the undertaking is exempt from the application of the Act for the following reasons:

1. As isolated works, the undertaking is of a very small scale and is presently sufficiently regulated, in terms of the potential environmental consequences of construction and implementation of such works, under existing statutes, regulations, policies and guidelines, including The Ontario Water Resources Act, 1970, The Environmental Protection Act, 1971, and The Public Health Act, 1970, and
2. As constituent projects of larger undertakings, additional environmental considerations will be ensured by conditions which may be placed on the approvals given under The Environmental Assessment Act, 1975 for those larger undertakings.

This exemption is subject to the following terms and conditions:

1. Water works, sewage systems and sewage works having an estimated completion cost of greater than $1,000,000 (as modified by the dollar inflation clause, above), will have individual and/or class environmental assessments prepared for them which will be subject to the conditions and approval process of The Environmental Assessment Act, 1975,
2. Any sewage systems or sewage works that discharge directly into surface water and any sewage lagoons are not exempted by this order. Such undertakings will have individual and/or class environmental assessments prepared for them which will be subject to the conditions and approval process of the Act,
3. A copy of the site plan and/or construction drawings, with respect to the undertaking shall, before implementation commences, be made available to the public at a District Office of the Ministry of Natural Resources, and notice and a copy of these site plans and construction drawings shall be sent to the Environmental Approvals Branch of the Ministry of the Environment to be kept with the records of Environmental Assessment and made available to the public in the same way as such records.
4. The Ministry of Natural Resources will continue its voluntary compliance with

The Ontario Water Resources Act and Regulations in carrying out the undertakings,

5. Where the undertaking is being carried out in connection with another undertaking for which an environmental assessment has been done and approval to proceed received, the undertaking exempt under this order shall be carried out in accordance with the approval to proceed, and
6. In the event that the nature of the undertaking is changed to include projects not presently carried out by the Ministry of Natural Resources, that this exemption be reviewed in consultation with the Environmental Approvals Branch of the Ministry of the Environment and a decision reached as to its applicability.

This order comes into force and has effect on and after the day upon which it is signed.

Dated at Toronto, this 2nd day of November, 1978.

HARRY PARROTT,
Minister of the Environment.

THE ENVIRONMENTAL ASSESSMENT ACT, 1975

Exemption Section 30

Having been advised by the Provincial Secretary for Resources Development and the Minister of Energy that by terms of reference set out in Order-in-Council numbered O.C. 2065/78, certain matters are to be reported upon by the Royal Commission on Electrical Power Planning to the Minister of Energy, namely:

1. For the geographic area of Ontario south of Bruce nuclear power development and west of a line between Essa transformer station and Nanticoke generating station, load growth in the area up to the end of 1987 and from 1987 to the year 2000, the capability of existing and committed bulk power generation and transmission facilities to supply this load to the area taking into account Government policy with respect to the use of interconnections with neighbouring utilities, and the resulting date at which additional bulk power facilities, if any, will be needed, but excluding consideration of the specific nature of the additional bulk power facilities which may be required and of their locational and environmental aspects;

2. For the geographic area of Ontario east of Lennox generating station, load growth in the area up to the end of 1987 and 1987 to the year 2000, the capability of existing and committed bulk power generation and transmission facilities to supply this load to the area taking into account Government policy with respect to the use of interconnections with neighbouring utilities, and the resulting date at which additional bulk power facilities, if any, will be needed, but excluding consideration of the specific nature of the additional bulk power facilities which may be required and of their locational and environmental aspects;

and that Government decisions will be made in respect of these matters to be reported on by the Royal Commission on Electric Power Planning pursuant to the Order-in-Council, following consideration of those reports (which matters and decisions are referred to herein as the "undertakings"); and

Having received a request from the Minister of Energy that these undertakings be exempted from the application of the Act pursuant to Section 30 of the Act; and

Having been advised by the Minister of Energy that if the undertakings are subject to the application of the Act both the public and Ontario Hydro will be interfered with by having to present their views on the undertakings in duplicate hearings dealing with the same subject matter and that such hearings could unnecessarily or unduly delay the installation of any additional bulk power facilities which may be necessary to provide electric power to the people of the Province; and

Having been advised by the Minister of Energy that Ontario Hydro has informed the Minister of Energy that Ontario Hydro will request an Environmental Assessment Board hearing with respect to the specific nature, and the environmental and locational aspects, of any additional bulk power facilities proposed in accordance with any Government decisions as to the need for such facilities and that a further approving Order-in-Council is required under The Power Corporation Act prior to construction of any such facilities by Ontario Hydro; and

Having concluded that the Environmental Assessment Board would benefit from the experience of members of the Royal Commission with respect to electric power planning matters and the Government expressing its intention hereby to appoint members of the Royal Commission on Electric Power Planning to the Environmental Assessment Board following receipt by the Minister of Energy and the Government of the various reports required of the Royal Commission;

I am of the opinion that it is in the public interest to order and do order that these undertakings be exempt from the application of the Act for the following reasons:

1. It is in accordance with Government policy and is in the public interest to avoid and eliminate, where possible, duplication of hearings dealing with the same subject matter.
2. Members of the public and Government Ministries will have the opportunity to present their views to the Royal Commission on Electric Power Planning, or the Environmental Assessment Board, as appropriate.
3. The Government intends to appoint members of the Royal Commission to the Environmental Assessment Board, which Board would consider such additional bulk power facilities as may be proposed by Ontario Hydro to meet as nearly as possible the requirement established by the Government. These appointments will provide continuity in the review processes applicable to any additional bulk power facilities which may be proposed and will provide the Board with valuable experience with respect to electric power planning matters.

This order comes into force and has effect on and after the day upon which it is signed.

Dated at Toronto, this 25th day of September, 1978.

HARRY C. PARROTT,
Minister of the Environment.

O.C. No. 2000/78

The Environmental Assessment Act, 1975

MNR-14

THE ENVIRONMENTAL ASSESSMENT ACT, 1975

Exemption Section 30

Having received a request from the Minister of Natural Resources that an undertaking, namely:

The control of nuisance species of plants and animals, including fish, birds and insects, by chemicals, transplanting, habitat alteration, shooting or trapping, as carried out presently by the Branches of Fisheries, Wildlife, and Provincial Parks of the Ministry of Natural Resources,

be further exempted from the application of the Act pursuant to Section 30; and

Having been advised by the Minister of Natural Resources that the activities presently being carried out within this undertaking consist of:

1. aquatic weed control, carried out by the Fisheries Branch to improve fisheries habitat;
2. spraying for poison ivy and controlling the incidence of encephalitis by spraying mosquitoes, carried out by the Provincial Parks Branch; and
3. the control of nuisance animals, carried out by the Wildlife Branch, which involves shooting, trapping or transplanting of bears, wolves, coyotes and beavers when they pose a serious problem to livestock or the damage of property. The control of these species is not extensive as Ministry of Natural Resources' staff serve primarily in an advisory capacity to private individuals experiencing an animal nuisance problem; and

Having been advised that if the undertaking is subject to the application of the Act, the following injury, damage or interference with the persons and property indicated will occur:

The public will be interfered with by delay in implementing the control of nuisance species for which immediate control is needed as problems arise.

Having weighed such injury, damage or interference with the betterment of the people of the whole or any part of Ontario by the protection, conservation and wise management in Ontario of the environment which would result from the undertaking being subject to the application of the Act;

I am of the opinion that it is in the public interest to order and do order that the undertaking is exempt from the application of the Act for the following reasons:

1. The undertaking represents a relatively minor activity of the Ministry of Natural Resources, in terms of its frequency, significance and extent of treatment, and therefore is not expected to result in significant adverse environmental effects.

2. Activities within the undertaking currently undergo careful screening by Ministry of Natural Resources' biologists whose main concern in most cases is the protection and maintenance of Ontario's plant and animal life. In other cases, the objectives are the health or safety of people or property.
3. The proper use of pesticides to control nuisance species of plants and animals is strictly controlled under The Pesticides Act, 1973. Where required by that Act, the Ministry of Natural Resources holds licences and permits from the Ministry of the Environment to carry out such exterminations.

This exemption is subject to the following terms and conditions:

1. Before commencing any new proposals for the control of nuisance species which differ substantially from the frequency, significance or extent of control currently being carried out by the Ministry of Natural Resources, the Ministry shall notify the Environmental Approvals Branch of the Ministry of the Environment and provide such additional information as is necessary so that a determination can be made as to whether any such proposal should or should not require an environmental assessment.
2. Nuisance species control carried out as part of either the forest management or lake reclamation undertakings, for which separate environmental assessments are to be submitted for approval, is not part of the undertaking which is exempt under this order.
3. The activity of rabies control is not part of the undertaking which is exempt under this order. At the present time, the Ministry of Natural Resources is carrying out only experimental rabies control work, which is not subject to The Environmental Assessment Act prohibition. If and when a definitive program is commenced, the Ministry of Natural Resources will notify the Environmental Approvals Branch of the Ministry of the Environment, to determine the applicability of the Act to such a program.
4. Where the undertaking is part of another undertaking, for which an environmental assessment has been done and approval to proceed received, nuisance species control shall be carried out in accordance with that environmental assessment and approval to proceed.

This order comes into force and has effect on and after the day upon which it is signed.

Dated at Toronto, this 9th day of November, 1978.

HARRY PARROTT,
Minister of the Environment.

MCU-2

THE ENVIRONMENTAL ASSESSMENT ACT, 1975

Exemption Section 30

Having received a request from the Georgian College of Applied Arts and Technology that an undertaking, namely:

The completion of the construction of a new campus in Orillia be exempted from the application of the Act pursuant to Section 30; and

Having been authorized pursuant to subsection 2 of section 4 of The Executive Council Act to act as Minister of the Environment in this matter; and

Having been advised that if the undertaking is subject to the application of The Environmental Assessment Act, 1975, the following injury, damage or interference with the persons and property indicated will occur:

1. The College will be interfered with and damaged by the undue delay of the project which has the following benefits:

—the creation of the post secondary education facility to provide adequate educational space for the training of full time and part time students located in Orillia and the surrounding area and who are unable to be accommodated in the existing facilities;

—the creation of an educational and recreational facility for the students and the general public;

—an anticipated significant cost saving to the tax payer by consolidating the existing scattered facilities in a single location, resulting in a much more efficient operation;

—additional educational and recreational benefits to the patients of the adjacent Huronia Regional Centre;

—sharing of the physical plant services which have become surplus at the Huronia Regional Centre due to the reduction of the number of patients being treated at the Centre; and the following disbenefits:

—an increase in the amount of local traffic on Highway 11B;

—a detrimental impact on part of the site's woodlot through clearing and construction of the facility;

Having weighed such injury, damage or interference with the betterment of the people of the whole or part of Ontario by the protection, conservation and wise management of Ontario of the environment which would result from the undertaking being subject to the application of the Act;

I am of the opinion that it is in the public interest to order and do order that the undertaking is exempt from the application of the Act for the following reasons:

1. A feasibility study was carried out in 1975—(Ministry of Colleges and Universities project GEO-140HS). This report indicated the new campus is needed in Orillia.
2. Seven sites in the Orillia area were examined and the site referred to in the above brief was chosen because of the satisfactory size for a campus location, its cost, and its close proximity to the Huronia Regional Centre for purposes of providing practical educational facilities for some of the College's students and recreational opportunities for the Centre's residents.
3. The undertaking is unlikely to have any significant adverse effects on the environment and therefore, the interference with Georgian College of Applied Arts and Technology, the Ministry of Colleges and Universities, City of Orillia and the surrounding area which would be caused by the application of the Act to the project would be undue. Any forecast detrimental environmental effects will be mitigated through the application of terms and conditions.

This exemption order is subject to the following terms and conditions:

1. Georgian College shall identify on and off-site constraints, develop a site management program and appoint a person to do site inspection during the construction phase. Georgian College shall confer with the Ministries of the Environment and Natural Resources as well as the City of Orillia Planning Department to develop plans to mitigate adverse on-site and off-site effects caused by the construction, operation and retirement of this project.

2. Particular care shall be taken by the College in ensuring the conservation, and enhancement of the remaining portions of the woodlot in its natural state for the enjoyment of the people of the City of Orillia through the application of the following measures:

—a combined parking lot and servicing corridor to reduce impact on the woodlot;

—the development of a storm water management program so that storm-water from the buildings and parking lot will not detrimentally affect either the woodlot groundwater quality or the neighbouring watershed.

3. The construction of access roads, parking lots and buildings should be planned with the objective of minimizing impairment of the natural function of the woodlot.
4. Trees to be saved on the edges of any planned buildings, the access road and parking lots should be protected from damage through temporary fencing erected throughout construction at the drip line and wrapping of trunks to prevent sun scald.
5. Plans for managing public access to the woodlot so as to preserve its natural functioning should be included in the site management plan.

This order comes into force and effect on and after the day upon which it is signed.

Dated at Toronto, this 25th day of October, 1978.

FRANK DREA,
Acting Minister of the Environment.

To this Act the Royal Assent was announced by the Clerk of the Legislative Assembly in the following words:—

"The Honourable the Lieutenant Governor doth thank Her Majesty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, accept their benevolence and assent to this Bill in Her Majesty's name."

The Honourable the Lieutenant Governor was then pleased to deliver the following gracious speech:—

Mr. Speaker and Members of the Legislative Assembly:

It is my duty to bring to a close this Second Session of the Thirty-first Parliament of Ontario, a Session marked by hard work and rewarded by steady progress in numerous areas of public concern. While some few matters remain to be resolved, still it can be noted that the program outlined by the Government last February has largely been accomplished.

Our Province has continued to play a full and vital role in issues of national interest and concern. This role has been strengthened by the creation, this Fall, of a new Ministry of Intergovernmental Affairs to provide direct liaison between Ontario and other governments, at all levels.

At the Conference of First Ministers a week before the start of this Session, a 10-point proposal by Ontario received endorsement, for the most part, as the framework of a national strategy for job creation and economic recovery. That agreement was actively pursued at a subsequent meeting of First Ministers at the end of November.

Ontario's commitment to the agreement was largely implemented in the 1978 Budget presented to this Assembly on March 7, which put into effect initiatives on which the Province could take action on its own.

Two measures in particular, namely suspension of the 7 per cent retail tax on accommodation and introduction of a Tourism Awareness program by the Ministry of Industry and Tourism, have been enthusiastically accepted and are playing a part in reversing the current deficit in the provincial tourism account.

To counter the trade deficit in manufacturing goods, the Ministry also set its sights on replacing $10 million worth of imports to Ontario for the current fiscal year by more aggressive promotion of domestic marketing opportunities. This initiative is in addition to the Province's participation in the "Shop Canadian" campaign launched in May.

As well, Ontario took part in a federal-provincial economic stimulation program, whose main feature, a 6-month reduction of the retail sales tax by 3 per cent, was directed toward bolstering consumer and business confidence.

Some 23,000 employers in the private sector took advantage of the Ontario Youth Employment Summer Program, which created a record of more than 39,000 jobs at a cost to the Government of $25 million. At the same time, the duration of the program was extended this year from 16 weeks to 25 weeks, and the subsidy to employers increased from $1 to $1.25 an hour.

In the permanent job market, the Ministry of Colleges and Universities is working to bring a renewed focus to apprenticeship training, to counter the serious shortage of skilled workers in the Province, and is meeting with encouraging response. The program, funded by the Government of Canada, emphasizes private-sector employer-sponsored training at the local community level.

Ontario's comprehensive Family Law Reform legislation was proclaimed on March 31st bringing into force a modern code of justice in economic relations between spouses and among other persons in the event of family disputes.

A higher rate of fees for jurors who serve on long trials has been set, to alleviate the difficulties imposed on many people in meeting this important civic obligation.

A new Securities Act and complementary Commodity Futures legislation have received Royal Assent.

A major overhaul of The Liquor Licence Act, includes a provision to raise the legal drinking age to 19, effective December 31st. Concerns about alcohol abuse in our society are reflected in stricter laws on drinking and driving which now call for a 3-year suspension of a driver's licence on the third conviction.

Amendments to The Ministry of Correctional Services Act provide for exchange of service agreements with the Government of Canada and assumption by Ontario of responsibility for parole in provincial institutions. A new system of earned remissions by inmates is a positive addition to the progressive community-service focus of a number of existing corrections programs.

Significant protections for children in our society are embodied in reforms to nine Acts dealing with children's services. Among them, major revisions to The Child Welfare Act incorporate provisions to serve the "best interests" of the child as well as for independent legal representation of children.

The process continues of consolidating and streamlining children's services, as much as possible, within a single ministry. Recent changes include the transfer of responsibility for children's probation services to the Ministry of Community and Social Services under a new Children's Probation Act, which came into force on July 1st.

Two interim reports from the Select Committee on Ontario Hydro Affairs and one from the Royal Commission on Electric Power Planning attest to the continuing high priority given by Members of this House to the problems and costs of meeting Ontario's future energy needs.

A new Indian Commission of Ontario has been created as the provincial participant in tripartite consultations with the Indian Community and the Federal Government. This tripartite forum will negotiate issues of special interest to the Indian Community. It responds, for the most part, to the Interim Report of the Royal Commission on the Northern Environment, brought down in April by Mr. Justice Patrick Hartt, who has been named the Province's first Indian Commissioner.

The Government set to work early in the year to meet its commitment to develop comprehensive tenant protection provisions with the publication of a "Green Paper". The opportunity thus provided for public debate and response was supplemented by a review of the policy options by the Standing General Government Committee throughout the Spring.

Finally, at the end of October, legislation was introduced combining the residential aspects of The Landlord and Tenant Act with a revised form of the present rent review program. The new Residential Tenancies Act also breaks new ground in that it marks the first attempt at writing the law in layman's language, as part of the drive for a more straightforward or "deregulated" approach in carrying on the Government's business.

The culmination of this process of open consultation and debate will be in enactment of a body of law that prescribed a fairer and smoother course in future landlord-tenant relations. In the meantime, the provisions of the existing rent review program will continue to apply.

All legislation dealing with the health and safety of workers has been consolidated into a single body of law. The Occupational Health and Safety Act, fashioned to a great extent from the recommendations of the Royal Commission on the Health and Safety of Workers in Mines, was first introduced in October, 1977. The Bill has been the subject of detailed scrutiny and extensive debate. Substantive amendments now have the approval of the House. The legislation, applying as it does to the vast majority of workers in Ontario, represents a significant advance in safeguarding the health of Ontario's working men and women on whom the continued strength and progress of our society must rest.

Earnings eligibility ceilings and maximum workmen's compensation benefits were increased on July 1st. New benefits in minimum compensations for temporary or permanent disability, as well as pension increases and other allowances for dependants were also introduced.

The Ministry of Natural Resources is undertaking two watershed projects in Eastern Ontario, in conjunction with the South Nation River Conservation Authority. The projects, announced in June, are part of a land reclamation and resource development plan to improve the economic productivity of the area.

A federal-provincial agreement, signed at approximately the same time, covers a 5-year forest industry and job creation program also directed toward improving the economy in Eastern Ontario.

Conscientious efforts have been made in all ministries to improve relations between Government and the public, in keeping with stated policies on better "Customer Service" and "Deregulation". As well, there has been a marked increase in the provision of services in French, ranging from the publication of documents and information for the public to legislation providing for French-language court trials.

As indicated by this summing up, this Session has produced achievements from which Honourable Members may derive no small sense of satisfaction. In declaring the Session prorogued, may I commend you on the reasoned debate, the give and take and the sense of duty to the public interest that have prevailed in the activities of the past ten months.

May I also take this opportunity to extend warm and sincere greetings to you all and to your families for a happy holiday season.

In our Sovereign's Name, I thank you.

God bless the Queen and Canada.

The Government House Leader then said:—

Mr. Speaker and Members of the Legislative Assembly:

It is the will and pleasure of the Honourable the Lieutenant Governor that this Legislative Assembly be prorogued and this Legislative Assembly be accordingly prorogued.

3.50 p.m.

RODERICK LEWIS, Q.C.,
Clerk of the Legislative Assembly of Ontario.
